

National Library of Medicine Health Information Resources

National Library of Medicine

<http://www.nlm.nih.gov>

On the campus of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, MD, NLM is the world's largest medical library. The Library collects materials and provides information and research services in all areas of biomedicine and health care.

National Network of Libraries of Medicine, Southeastern/Atlantic Region

<http://nnlm.gov/sea>

NN/LM is a network of health science libraries and information centers throughout the United States that provides health care professionals and the public equal access to biomedical and health care information resources.

NLM Services and Resources

PubMed

<http://pubmed.gov>

PubMed provides access to bibliographic information that includes MEDLINE, NLM's premier bibliographic database that contains references to journal articles in the life sciences with a concentration on biomedicine.

Loansome Doc

<http://nnlm.gov/sea/rsdd/ld.html>

Loansome Doc is a document delivery service provided by participating DOCLINE libraries to users of PubMed. Loansome Doc allows users to order documents retrieved in MEDLINE searches from libraries that have agreed to serve them. (Local fees and delivery methods may vary).

MedlinePlus (for consumer health)

<http://www.nlm.nih.gov/medlineplus/>

MedlinePlus will direct you to information to help answer health questions. Brings together authoritative information from NLM, NIH, and other government agencies and health-related organizations.

Information Rx

<http://informationrx.org>

A free information prescription program from the National Library of Medicine in partnership with several national health professional associations.

ClinicalTrials.gov

<http://clinicaltrials.gov/>

A registry of federally and privately supported clinical trials conducted in the United States and around the world. Provides information about a trial's purpose, who may participate, locations, and phone numbers for more details.

NIHseniorHealth.gov

<http://nihseniorhealth.gov/>

A website that features health and wellness information for older adults from the National Institutes of Health.

Partners in Information Access for the Public Health Workforce

<http://Phpartners.org>

A website that helps the public health workforce find and use information effectively to improve and protect the public's health.

TOXLINE

<http://toxnet.nlm.nih.gov/cgi-bin/sis/htmlgen?TOXLINE>

The National Library of Medicine's bibliographic database for toxicology, a varied science encompassing many disciplines. TOXLINE records provide bibliographic information covering the biochemical, pharmacological, physiological, and toxicological effects of drugs and other chemicals.

Toxnet

<http://toxnet.nlm.nih.gov/>

Databases on toxicology, hazardous chemicals, environmental health, and toxic releases.